Mission

We are dedicated to providing our clients with prepared and knowledgeable agents with a deep understanding of the projects in which they work and the skills they need to bring to fruition.

Our training is provided in-house and not at the expense of our clients. The investment we make in our agents provides the largest return for not only our team, but also for our clients.

Leadership

Our leadership team is comprised of skilled individuals with a passion for educating and shaping the future success of Allegiant

Solar

Each Solar agent endures an in-depth training with current leasing agents in the field and our leadership team long before they are assigned to a solar project of their own.

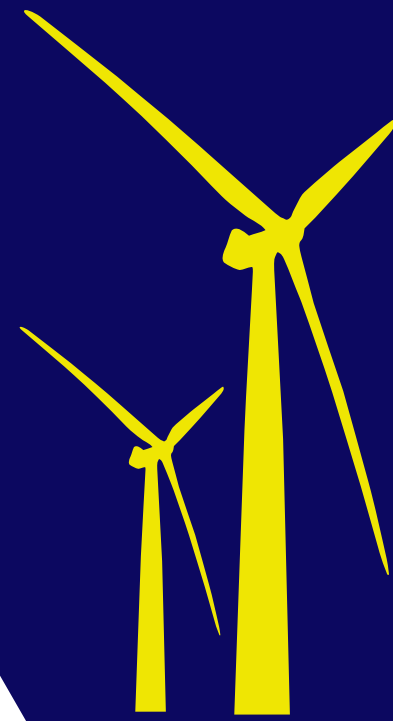

Understanding the caveats of renewable development is paramount in successful acquisition.

Comprehensive understanding of solar development

Full review of internal training materials including FAQ sheets

In-field, hands-on landowner meetings with senior leasing agents

Line-by-line review of solar leases and financial term sheets

Wind

Mirroring our solar training process, all of our leasing agents walk through a lengthy educational process ensuring they are able to convey confidence in the field.

- Line-by-Line overview of multiple wind leases
- Term-sheet review
- FAQ sheets at their disposal
- In-field training with leasing agents
- Continued access to all leasing agents and leadership personnel
